"Virtual Employee"? Yes, a Virtual Employee.(VE) is exactly as it sounds.
These are employees that work solely for the client's company, and managed by MarketRaise.

Our VE staff is made up of 25 people, with a combined amount of 140 man years experience:

Benefits of having a VE a part of your company

- Our VE never takes vacation or call in sick.
- There is no associated employee cost-medical, taxes, or SS.
- Our VE are more Cost Effective.
- You will always hire high skilled IT personnel.
- Choose a pricing structure that best fits your budget.
- Have total control over your employee.
- Have a NY, American Based company handling your work.
- You can feel secure that a company not a freelancer is taking care of your work.
- You can always pick up the phone and call us toll free.
- Monitor and track your worker and or project with our daily tracking and reporting system.
- Your employee will never have a day off because we have other workers on stand by to fill in.
- Don't waste time speaking with freelancers that aren't serious about your project.
- You will always know that your work will get done because you are dealing with MarketRaise.
- Hire a high skilled employee within 5 minutes to start working for you immediately.
- You will always know the employees fees and qualifications before hiring them.
- Your employee will be working for only you and not juggling 10 other projects at the same time.
- You don't have to pay your employees paid vacations, sick days, medical benefits and other costs.
- Lower your operating costs and increase your profit margins.
- Save time by outsourcing tedious and time consuming projects and tasks.
- Take on more projects and grow your business instead of developing your clients projects.
- Go to one resource for all of your work.

Downside for the clients who hire their own Internet Technology (IT) person: They limit themselves to the knowledge of one IT person.

- How does the client know if the IT person is doing the right thing?
- With IT being such a new industry, how does a company compare its resources?
- The IT person not being available in time of need due to illness or personal issues.
- All associated cost with hiring new employee's including training and back-ground checks to ensure your companies security. Company Experience:
